

“ We are happy to help our couples figure out what services will work best for their needs. There are no shortcuts. We focus on exactly what they need and get it for them. ”

The Italian Job

The planning has begun post-engagement and you are dreaming of an elegant affair in sun-drenched Italy... Planning the perfect event takes hundreds of hours of painstaking coordination and meticulous planning on top of viewing portfolios, organising contracts, juggling emails and phone calls from suppliers, and worst of all, the distraction of arranging various payments on the day. All of this and still you have no guarantee everything will run smoothly! Determined to find a better way we asked experienced wedding planner Paola Shanahan from Irish Weddings in Italy to tell us how they can help you achieve the wedding of your dreams.

At Irish Weddings in Italy, we love throwing a party like no other. We recognize the significance of this once-in-a-lifetime event so we get to know our couples, ensuring each wedding truly reflects their personality and visions. We want your perfect day to be perfectly you. We incorporate our couple's ideas and give them the most breath-taking wedding day.

We choose to have a personal and customised approach for each couple and their event irrespective of size, style and budget. We possess enough knowledge, clarity and energy to work on details and to ensure that we can stylishly fuse the different cultures and traditions to create a bespoke event best suited to you.

We offer an array of planning and styling services from full à la Carte planning to a mere month of coordination and everything in between.

Irish Weddings in Italy have been in business since 2000, working with only the best. Their strong relationship with venues, suppliers and artisans in Italy along with their reputation for working with quality couples have made Paola Shanahan a standout name in the industry of events and travel.

We are happy to help our couples figure out what services will work best for their needs. There are no shortcuts. We focus on exactly what they need and get it for them. It takes skills to know what works together and what doesn't. It's not about inventing something just for the thrill of it. We use our best judgment, we care about our couples, do work that matters to couples and bet it all on the ability to create amazing memories for bride, groom and their guests to simply enjoy.
